Soil is base of our life. And all soils are necessity that supplying water and growing vegetable. It is important from a stand point of environment protection to understand that transformed and move water and air in soils.

Let’s learn and understand chemical and physical characteristic of soil core by X-ray CT